PILLAGING THE BANK.

The Raid by Pish's Pariner, Ward, Just Before the Cruek Came.

The United States Circuit Court room is who come to see and hear the trial of James D. Fish, the President of the extinct Marine Bank. Among them are several of the directors of the bank and many stockholders and depositors. Mr. Fish is always accompanied by his

Henry E. Daboll, a bookkeeper of the bank, testified yesterday that the deposits of Grant & Ward of May 3, added to the balances of both their general and special accounts amounted altogether to $1,388,220.28. The same day there was drawn out $1,802,147.80making an overdraft of $413,927.32. On May 5, deposits were $516,112.50, and the drafts the day before the bank and the firm failed, the Assistant Cashier Nathan D. Daboli testified that there were other instances of unsecured that there were other instances of unsecured loans besides those already mentioned. One mote of $100,000 was secured by 300 shares of the Union Dry Dock Company and 10,000 of the Buffalo, New York and Philadelphia general mortgage bonds. This note was made by the Chicago and Atlantic Railroad Company, and was endorsed by the New York, Lake Erie and Western Railroad. On May 5 President Fish ordered him to deliver to Grant & Ward a part of these collaterals, giving him the following letter:

Dran Fign: There is a time loan of $100,000 of the Chicage and Atlantic Railroad and 30 shares of the National Dry Bock Company of Buffalo. If you will send me this security I will bring you down a lot of securities to-day. Every little helps.

Mr. Daball a. Wano.

Mr. Daboli took 150 shares of the Dry Dock Company from the collaterals and gave them up. On March 5 there was a loan to G. E. Spencer of $30,000, and on April 2 a loan of $40,000 to W. C. Smith, for which no collaterals were deposited. He had called Ferdinand Ward's attention to the absence of the signature on the note for $25,000 of W. S. Ward, and Mr. Ward had taken it away and had not returned it. He had called Mr. Ward's attention to the absence of collateral for several of the notes, and that some of the collatoral named was pledged. Mr. Ward said it was all right. He had told Mr. Fish that he had spoken to Ward, and that Ward had promised to provide other securities. Ward did not do so.

PICTURESQUE BRANSCOMBE,

Orator, Anthor, Cavalryman, and Forger

Col. Alexander C. Branscombe, the tall laisurely Southern swindler, was arraigned in the General Sessions yesterday for sentence. He held a neatly folded paper in his left hand. his empty right sleeve being pinned upon his breast, Referring occasionally to the paper, he addressed Recorder Smyth in the most approved manner of a public speaker:

Although, your Honor, I protest my innocence, despite the verdict of the jury condemning me, I am fully aware that, like Robert Emmet in his extremity, what I have to say in my own behalf comes too late, and will have little or no weight. It is too late to save me from my doom. Still, I repeat that I am innocent, and that I er tered upon the enterprise that has proved so disastro tered upon the enterprise that has proved so disastrons to me with an honest purpose, and with the prospect of making a great deal of money honestly. I was duped and misted, and I stand before your important in the prospect of fall. I sak clemente, your inone, only because, if I had mit the property of the property o apart of the money that has been taken from business men of this city.

Recorder Smyth responded to this allocution by saying: You are one of the most expert and dangerous forgers in this country. You have been twice in State prison. You awindled business men of this city out of $50,000. Such wholesale criminality deserves wholesale punishment, and I propose to administer the extreme penalty of the law. The sentence of the Court is that you be imprisoned in State prison for ten years.

Col. Branscombe turned from the bar and sauntered back to the prisoners' box as ecolly as though he was taking a stroll for pleasure. He established himself last summer at 265 Broadway as the publisher of the only authorized guide to the New Orleans Exposition and a pamphlet entitled. The Diversified Industries of the South." He floated $52,000 worth of necks. Detectives say that he has been a persistent forger of Southern bonds. He says he lost his right arm while leading a regiment of Confederate cavalry. He forges beautifully with his left. In "The lifus and the Grey." a book that has been as location send the firety," a book that has been as soldier with consummate skill as a forgor.

The spectators who were arrested on the moraing of Feb. 21 while watching a glove con-test between Edward McDonald and Thomas Burns in Shanley's Athambra, in Fourth steest, near Grand street, Williamsburgh, were discharged from custody yesterday at the request of Assistant District Attorney Clark, by Justice Nacher, and then placed on the stand as witnesses for the people.

All of them testified that they believed they were attending a christoning party and that the contest between McDonaid and Burns was for points. Each of them averred that he did not consider it a prize fight, and did not think the men struck each other hard. Justice Powers of Staten Island, who appeared for his neighbors, Charles Rappenhagen and John Lynch, refused to make any cross-examination. He enjoyed the proceedings.

Justice of the Peace Delahanty of Long Island
City, who was one of the spectators arrested, and who is known in the case as James Delaney, carpenter of Hunter's Point, was not present. A certificate from a physician read that he was seriously ill.

Serweant Burford and Sergeant Hallitt testified that McDonald said in the police station that he and Burns were fighting for a purse of $10. The Justice reserved his decision.

Cable Road on Brooms Street.

The Cable Road Commission yesterday con-sidered the proposed route on Brooms street. Eugens Jones, a member of the Produce Exchange and a flour miller at Broome and Lowis streets, said his plant cost $400,000. He employed 100 trucks, and a surface road on Broome street would paralyze his business. Seth C. Keys, a Broome street carriage maker, said his busi ness would be amashed by any kind of a road. Thomas J. McKee, an officer in the Mechanics' Bank, said he had been instructed by the directors to enter a protest against the firecome arrest road. He said the elevated against the firecome arrest road. He said the elevated John C. Clayer had annoyed them complet arready. John C. George A. Leavitt & Co. began yesterday an auction sale of the law library of the late Charles O'Conor at Clinton Hall. All the law books are catalogued for sale, excepting the well-known set lettered on their back "My Own Cases," which he left by will to the New York Law Institute. The catalogue contains some rare books, but his miscellaneous law books, while well preserved and valuate, brought low prices.

Two octavo volumes of P. Phillipsa "Digest of Alabams Supreme Court Cases" were soil for one cent spiece. Twenty aid octavo volumes of the "Albany Law Journal" brought 2125 sach. Id. EILLED BY ITS MOTHER'S AUT. A Dissipated Woman Throws her Baby Out of the Window. James McCloskey, a house painter, living on the third floor of the tenement in the rear of 517 East Fifteenth street, was awakened at 1 o'clock yesterday morning by hearing a noise at the window. His wife, Ann. stood leaning out with their two-year-old child Annie in her arms. The sash was up, and the shutters were thrown wide open. The husband asked his wife what she was doing there, and sprang out of bed. Just as he did so the mother threw the child out of the window, and tried to snatch the child out of the window, and tried to snatch up the remaining child, Mamle, who was asleep on a cot on the floor.

McCloskey struggled with his wife and overpowered her. Her screams aroused the neighbors, and Policeman Monaghan came into the yard. He found the child on the atone flagging. Her skull was fractured, and her body was fearfully mangled, but there was a little life left. The child was taken to Relievus Hospital. Mrs. McCloskey was arrested while her husband was holding her back from getting her hands on the other child. She was taken to the Jorkville Police Court, and arraigned before Justice Murray.

I don't knew why I did it," was all she said to the magistrate, who committed her.

Her husband said that she had been drinking hard lately, but on Sunday she stopped. He did not think she had had any liquor since. He believed it was insanily resulting from her last spree that caused her to do what she had done, Mrs. McCloskey is 30 years old, and looks like an intemperate person. She said to a reporter that she was dreaming, and thought some men were outside her door. They were saying: "We'll throw her child out of the window." No you won't, I will mysel("she said she dreamed, and sprang up and threw the child out of the window, not realizing what she was doing. She talked rationally, and asked the reporter if the child was dead. At noon the infant died in Bellevue.

BAUER'S SENTENCE TOO SHORT.

His Priends Trying to Make This a Ground for His Release.

Justice Pratt of the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, granted a writ of habeas corpus, yesterday, for the production of Paul Bauer in court to-day, when a motion will be made for his release, on the ground that the sentence was irregular. The petition on which the application was made set forth that Judge Moore had no power to pass a sentence of three months' imprisonment, the law being specific on the point that a person convicted under the poolselling act should be imprisoned for one year. Bauer paid his line of $750 yesterday. His friends are hopeful that this legal proceeding will lead to his release. The language of Section 351 is that an offence such as his "is punishable by imprisonment for one year, or by a line not exceeding $2,000, or both."

Mr. Wernberg, counsel for Bauer, contends that Judge Moore violated the law when he sentenced him to a lower line and a shorter term of imprisonment.

Bendleston Against Bendleston.

Alfred N. Beadleston of Beadleston & Woerz the brewers, is seeking an absolute divorce from his wife. Mrs. Beadleston has made countercharges against her husband. Richard S. Newcombe was appointed referee, and the first installment of the testimony was taken eree, and the first installment of the testimony was taken at his office yesterday afternoon. Both sides agreed that the defendant should receive almony pending the decision in the case, but they could not agree upon the amount. The defendant wanted $12.00° a year and $5.50 counsel fee. Judge Bonoloue fixed the amount at $60 a week and $1.00° counsel fee. Mr and Mrs. Beadleson have three children. One of them is an infant, and is cared for by the mother. The others are at school, the father paying their expenses.

The flowers were offered to the highest bid-A group of ladies followed the suctioner about, and when one lady hid for a flower size generally got it. The others were satisfied that she should get it, for there were many more of the same kind. Mr. Klunder and everything went about one-third less than his usual retail price.

Our opinions on the subject of the Cuticura Remedies are formed from the expressions of our customers, to detail which would be to write a volume. They sell more readily than any other binod framelies.

BARXABYS PHARMACY, 725 Fulton St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

I have always looked upon the so-called patent medicines as "humbug medicines" until a few months are, when a gentleman told me he had been completely cured of acrofulous affections, with which he had been troubled for ten years, by using the Cutteurs Remedies.

6. KRBITZER, Ph. G.,
13 Channey et., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Our sale of Cuttoura goods are large, and they give J. W. KIMBALL, Druggist, 450 5th av., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Your Cuticura Remedies have a large sale here with W. B. AVERRE, 82 Park av., Brooklyn, N. Y. Of all remedies, both external and internal, the Cutt-cura are the best, and, in fact, only regular seiling goods D. CAMERON. 219 Hewes st. Brooklyn, N. Y.

Your Cuticura Remedies are increasing in public favor. They sell as well as the oldest and best in the market. JAMES A. DARLINGTON, Druggist, Buffalo, N. Y.

Your Cuticura Remedies always bring a good report. CHASE & HOLLAND, bringsists, Cambridge, N. Y.

I find that your Cuticura Soap outsells all other medicinal soaps that I keep.

We are selling an enormous quantity of your Cuticura reparations.

Your Cuticura Remedies have a good sale and are in reasing. WHITE & BURDICK, Ithaca, N. Y.

I have been selling the Cuticura Remedies for a long time, and find that the public generally are pleased with them.

F. J. R. CLARKE,
Kingston, N. Y.

Your Cuticurs and Cuticurs Soap sell well and better than others for same purposes. TUTTLE & WILLIE, Le Roy, N. Y.

Your Cuticura Remedies have the largest sale with me of all the blood and skin remedies in the market.

F. T. WILCOX, Druggist, Le itoy, N. Y.

I sell more of your Cuticura Remedies than of all others of the sort put together. H. A. BUKKHART, Druggist, Bethichem, Pa. BEAUTIFY THE SKIN.

The Cutioura Remedies have a very good sale with us. I am sorry that I fail to call to mind the names of any parties using them, but the sale of Cutioura is so common that it has failed to attract our attention any more. Cuticura Remedies sell well, especially the soap, which takes the lead as compared with other me dicinal soaps. PAUL KEMPSMITH, Druggist, Bethickem, Pa.

Cuticura Soap, as a medicinal and toilet article, takes precedence of all others, and as proof positive a tall stack of empty boxes stand as a monument on our counter.

H. G. PETERS, Druggist, Bristol, Pa. We have sold the Cuticura Remedies for several years and they have given universal satisfaction.

SAGER A JENNINGS, Druggists,
Cortiand, N. Y.

The sale of Cuticura Remedies has increased fifty per cent. during the past year. J. M. STOEVER, Chester, Pa. JAMES A. MEYERS, Druggist, Columbia, Pa.

I am selling the Cuticura Remedies, and find they are very much liked. I am using them in my own family, and would not be without them. MRS. S. H. KEIPER, Druggist, Easton, Pa.

The Cuticura and Cuticura Soap are splendld seller with me.

8. S. MYERS, Druggist, Emientown, Pa. The Cuticora Shaving Soap is an excellent article, and sells rapidly.

D. P. ROBBINS, Druggist, Erie, Pa.

Your Cuticura Soap eclipses anything on the market B. J. STENGER, M. D., The Cuticura Soap has been used in my own family with excellent effect.

Dr. A. B. BRUMBAUGH, Huntingdon, Pa.

NOW IS THE TIME.

The demand for your Cuteura Remedies renders the burchase of them a safe investment. They are, for all burposes for which they are designed, deserving of the singlest encounting, and have become standard and neck sought after. A. M. HOFFMAN, Druggist, North Tarrytown, N. Y.

We know of several persons who have suffered many years from severe forms of skin diseases, who have ob-tained decided relief from Cutteurs.

JOHN F. LONG'S SONS, Druggists, Lancaster, Pa. We have obtained satisfactory results from the use of the Cuticura Kemedies in our own family, and recom-mend them beyond any other remedies for diseases of the skin and blood. The demand for them grows as their marita become known.

MACMILLAN & CO., Druggists, Latrobe, Pa. Have heard some very favorable reports from you Cuticura Resolvent. Cuticura Soap is relling well with me.

B. M. EBY, Druggiet Newport, Pa.

The increasing demand for Cuticura Scap is due to its soothing and softening influence on the skin, healing all cruptions, and making it shooth and veivety to the touch. Its sales are constantly increasing.

E. H. GINGRICH, broggist,

Howard and Huntingdon sta.,
Philadeiphia.

The sales of your Cuticura Remedies compared with other remedies rate No 1. Have met with great success in your Cuticura Soap.
